MB 1 PEDIGREE of the Lords of ALLERDALE, in CUMBRIA, showing early Lords of the MANOR of BLENNERHASSET

Blennerhassett Family Tree, revised January 2010, © Bill Jehan 1968-2010
Thanks to all who have contributed to these pages - please send additions & corrections to email: bjehan@BlennerhassettFamilyTree.com

To scroll pages continuously, click icon above:

"Alnerdal (Allerdale) below Derwent" was the northern part of Cumbria, close to the border with lowland Scotland.
Cumbria belonged to the Earl of Northumberland and was not part of England at the time of the Norman conquest in 1066. In 1072 William the Conqueror took from the Saxon Gospatric (I) his Earldom of Northumberland and exiled him to Scotland, giving all of Cumbria to Ranulf de Meschins and all the land of Copeland between the rivers Dutton and Derwent to William Meschins, brother of Ranulf.

Gospatric (I), Earl of Northumberland (from whom the nearby town Aspatria takes its name) had a son Waldeof (Waldeve), who recovered great estates in Cumberland & Westmorland, being granted the whole Barony of Alnerdal (Allerdale), between the rivers Wampool and Derwent, by Ranulf de Meschins, and all lands between the rivers Cocker and Derwent by William de Meschins, Lord of Copeland.

Earl Waldeof, first Lord of Allerdale, held Allerdale of the King by service of cornage. He had a son Alan FitzWaldeof, second Lord of Allerdale.
Alan FitzWaldeof was a benefactor of the Cistercian Abbey of St.Mary, Holm Cultram, restoring the monastery founded by Henry I (1100-1135), giving to it one third of Holm Cultram (a.k.a. Abbeyholme).

Alan FitzWaldeof gave the manor of Blenerhayset (Blennerhasset), with Uckmanby (Upmanby), to his brother-in-law Ranulph de Lindsey on the occasion of Ranulph's marriage to Alan's sister, Ochtreda.
Ranulph de Lindsey was then styled "Lord of Blenerhayset & Uckmanby" , and from that family the property passed to the de Mulcaster family, who owned Blennerhasset for a long time.
Ancient Cumbria was to become the old english counties of Cumberland and Westmoreland, now absorbed into the modern english Co.Cumbria.

Crinan the Thane of Northumbria; b.c966 son of Duncan, Abbot of Dunkeld / killed in battle 1045 at Dunkeld, Perthshire Mormaer of Atholl Abthane of Dule / hereditary Lay Abbott of Dunkeld (Perthshire); Steward of the Western Isles / m.c1008 Bethoc (Beatrice, Beatrix) b.c984 Angus, Scotland; of Scotland (princess) heiress of Scone / (dau. of Malcolm II King of Strathclyde 990 King of Scots 1005 b.c954 d.25.11.1034, murdered at Glamis Castle; Frequently invaded Northern England) / last king of Scots of the line of Kenneth MacAlpine see p.RD 1

Maldred of Scotland b.c1004 Dunbar East Lothian, Scotland; perhaps, like his father, killed in battle at Dunkeld; Lord of Carlisle Regent of Strathclyde Feudal Lord of "Alnerdal" (the Barony of Allerdale) / m.c1030 Ealdgyth (Aldgyth/Algitha) of Northumbria; b.c1015/18 / dau. of Uctred (1st Earl of Northumberland & Earl of Bamburgh; assinated by Cnut) & his 3rd wife Elgiva (Aelgifu) dau. of Aethelred II "the Redeless" (King of England 979-1013 & 1014-16 ggg.son of Alfred the Great) / she also m. Edmund Ironsides, King of England d.1016, who also m. Algitha (Agatha) see p.RD 1

Duncan I the Gracious b.c1000 d.14.8.1040, bur. Iona / King of Strathclyde/Cumbria 1018-34; succeeded his grand father Malcolm II as King of Scots 25.11.1034 / His title to the throne disputed by Macbeth (c1005-57), Mormaer of Moray & commander of Duncan's forces, who killed him in battle 14.8.1040 (not murdered, as legend and W.S. have it) at Bothnagowan (now Pitgaveny) near Elgin, Morayshire, & siezed the throne /

Gospatric (I) the Earl of Scotland / b.c1037 Northumberland d.15.12.1072 Urbanford (now Norham), Scotland; bur. in porch of Norham ch. / 2nd Earl of Northumberland from cFeb 1068/9 (confirmed by William I the Conqueror although of Saxon nobility, not a Norman) until 1072 / / Gospatric held the Barony of "Alnerdal" (Allerdale) below Derwent, and it is from him the town of Aspatria in Allerdale, Cumberland, takes its name / exiled to Scotland 1068; deprived of his earldom by William the Conquerer and again exiled to Scotland 1072 / Malcolm II of Scotland gave him Dunbar, with adjacent lands in Lothian; as surnames came into use his descendants gradually took the surname Dunbar / Thane of Dunbar from 1080 (some say Earl of Dunbar) / Earl of Lothian (in 1115 he appears second of "Seven Earls of Scotland" who gave assent to the foundation charter granted to scone by Alexander I) / Lord of Bamburgh / m.1st Aethelreda of England (Princess) b.c1042 Scotland /

Ethelreda (Octreda) of Dunbar; m. Duncan, son of Malcolm III "Cean Mohr", King of Scots

Gospatric (II) de Dunbar of Scotland b.c1070 d.23.8.1138, killed at the "Battle of the Standard"; Earl of Northumberland Earl of Dunbar; ancestor of the Earls of March; m.c1103 Sibella (Sybil) Morel of Bearley (dau. of Arkil Morel)

Waldeof (Waldeve) b. <???> d.c1124 / 1st Lord (Baron) of Allerdale below Derwent, Cumberland did not succeed his father but was granted the Barony of Allerdale below Derwent (between rivers Wampool and Derwent), by Ranulf de Meschins; also all lands bet. rivers Cocker & Derwent by William de Meschins, Lord of Copeland; He held Allerdale of the King by service of cornage / he granted the manors of Camerton & Flimby to his brother-in-law Orme, Lord of Seaton; went to Jersualem, returning with piece of the holy cross / m. Sigrida of Allerdale (dau. of Styr, son of Ulf) she m.2nd Roger de Lancaster, son of Sir Gilbert de Lancaster & Godith (below)

Dolphin, Lord of of Carlisle

Fergus, Lord of Galloway

Octreda; m. Waldeve

?? Juliana

Gospatric (III) b.c1104 d.15.12.1166 Earl of Northumberland Earl of Dunbar m.c1130 Derdre

Edward Edgar
Waldeof (Waldeve)
Juliana

Waldeof (Waldeve) b.c1131 d.c1180 Earl of Dunbar / m.1160 Alina

Patrick
Walter

Alan FitzWaldeof fl. 1139 2nd Lord of Allerdale Chief overlord of Gospatric, son of Orme; Allonby (now a chapelry in Bromfield parish) is believed named for him (not from "by the river Ellen") /
He gave to Odard de Logis the Barony of Wigton (5 manors) & the manor of West Newton (inc. Allonby) which Odard de Logis then gave to his 4th son Ketel, the father of Adam de Newton (d.1200) who was the first to use the surname Newton [N&B vol.2 p.163] [BROWNE p.4];
He gave Blennerhassett & Uckmanby (Upmanby) in Allerdale as dowry to his sis. Ethelreda (Octreda, Hectreda) on her m. to Ranulf de Lindsey;
He gave Torpenhow in Allerdale and its rectory as dowry to his sister Gunilda on her marriage to Uctred, son of Fergus, Lord of Galloway;
He gave Bolton, Bassenthwaite & Eastholm to his "bastard" brother Gospatric; He gave High Ireby to his cousin Gospatric, son of Orme;
He gave to King Henry land of the forest of Allerdale, together with rights of hunting when the King stayed as a guest at Holm Cultram (a.k.a. Abbeyholme, Abbeytown)
/
m. Emma

Gospatric (a bastard) of Bolton; fl. 1154; he was granted Bolton, Bassenthwaite & Eastholm from his brother Alan FitzWaldeof (although [DENTON/1 p.42] says Gospatric was a bastard son of Alan, not a brother)

Waldeof (Waldeve), a monk at the abbey of Crowland; prior 1124
Christina; m. Duncan Lascelle
Galiena; m. Philip Moubray

Gunilda; m. Uctred, son of Fergus, Lord of Galloway [N&B vol.1 p.70] who gained the manor of Torpenhow and advowson of its rectory from his brother-in-law Alan FitzWaldeof , as dowry on his marriage

Ethelreda (Octreda, Octhreda, Hectreda) /
m.1st Ranulf (Ranulph) de Lindsay, who gained the manor of Blennerhasset, with Uckmanby (Upmanby) from his brother-in-law Alan FitzWaldeof , as dowry on his marriage; "Lord of Blennerhasset and Uckmanby" temp. Henry II (1154-89)
[Harleain Ms. 434] [Register of St.Bees, lib.I 22, lib.II 1] [Scottish Docs (Chancery) file 9 No.3] [Register of Wetherhal p.386] [N&B vol.I p.70]
/
m.2nd William de Esseby [Pipe Rolls 1158-60 & 1163]; he m.2nd Goditha le Fleming, dau. of Michael le Fleming of Furness
/
The MANOR OF BLENNERHASSET passed by inheritence to:
Nicholas Stuteville (d.30.3.1218 - son of Robert de Stuteville b.c1110 d.1183 & Helwise de Murdac b.c1140) who held it temp. Richard I (1189-1199)

Simon de Esseby; named in a [Charter of St. Bees]

Waldeof (Waldeve); (dsp in his father's lifetime) his body given to the Priory of Carlisle by his father, as was the manor of Crosby (later Cross Canonby)

Ethelreda (Octreda); m. Duncan, Earl of Murray (brother to David, King of Scots)
"…and thereby brought the barony of Allerdale into that family…" [N&B vol.2 p.70]

/
m.c1030 Sybylla
of Northumbria
(dau. of Bjorn Bearsson)
/
see p.RD 1

/
/
/
/
/
m.2nd
"a sister of Edmund" >>>>> >|>> Gunilda of Dunbar to whose husband Orme, her
bro. Waldeof gave the manors of Seaton, Camerton, Flimby
& Crakesuthen, as dowry
/
m.
/

|>> Robert, Prior of Hexham
|>> Uctred, Prior of Hexham
|>> Dolphin Maldred of Allerdale

|
|?? Uctred, Lord of Raby
|
|>> Matilda (Maud)
m. Dolphin, son of Aylward

Nicholas Stuteville m.1st <???> , having two sons:
Nicholas Stuteville (d.c19.10.1233, m. Devorguile of Galloway) and Robert Stuteville (d.bef. 22.6.1213, m. Sybil de Valognes)
Nicholas Stuteville m.2nd Gunnora d'Aubigny (dsp)

The MANOR OF BLENNERHASSET then passed to:
William de Ulfesby (Ulvesby), alias Piercy, who held it temp. Henry III (1216-72).
in 1246/7 he gave his lands to his son Walter (William) Piercy, who held five-sixths of the manor of Torpenhow, and also Blennerhasset.
In 1246/7 (31 Henry III) William Piercy gave three carucates of land at Torpenhow to Sir Robert de Mulcaster, Knt, of Hayton, Cumberland, who was Sheriff of Cumberland 1260 & Lord of the manors of Torpenhow, Blennerhasset and Bryarhill (Brackenhill?) temp. Henry III.
Blennerhasset was held by the de Mulcaster family unil 1413, when an heiress m. Sir Peter (or Piers, or Jeffrey) de Tilliol; it passed by descent & marriage to the families of Colville, Morisby, Pickering and Knivet, then by sale to Salkeld and eventually to Charlton in the 19th C.

NOTE: The earliest known references to Blennerhasset as a place name are "Blendherseta" 1188 & 1189 and "Blennerheiseta" in 1188

Ivo de Talebois >>>>>>>>>> >|>> Eldred (Eltreth) >>>>>>>>>> >|>> Chetell (Ketel) >>>>>>>>>> >|>> Orme >>>>>>>>>>>>>>>>> >|>> Gospatric of High Ireby >>>>. >|>> Thomas FitzGospatric of Workington d.1200; m. Grace d.1210 (she m.2nd Roger de Beauchamp)

1st Lord (Baron) of Kendal
[N&B vol.2 p.38]

Lord of Workington
/
m. Beatrice de Taillebois
her 2nd marriage;
she had m.1st
Ribald of Middleham (fl. 1086)

Lord of Kendal
1st Lord of Workington for whom Kelton (Ketel's Town) was named
/
m. Christiana

Lord of Seaton
Baron of Kendal
d.bef. 1145/50
/
he m.2nd to:
Ebrea (Ibrea) de Trevers
dau. of Robert de Trevers;
(her 2nd marriage;
she m.1st Ranulf de Engaine)

fl. 1145 & 1179 (25 Hen. II)
Lord of Workington, Flimby
Camerton & Seaton;
/
was given High Ireby by his cousin Alan FitzWaldeof
/
he gave two parts of the fishing at Flimby to abbey of Holm Cultram, this grant being confirmed & added to by his son Thomas FitzGospatric until the abbey eventually owned the whole of Flimby; Flimby was a chapelry within the parish of Camerton; he made a grant of common pasture to the abbey in 1174;
he and his wife also gave land next to Flimby (that had previously belonged to Aculphus, his tenant) to the church of St. Mary, Carlisle;
He gave Salter to the Abbey of St.Mary, York and the abbots made it a part of the cell of St.Bees [N&B vol.2 p.38]
/
m. Egeliva

|>> Adam FitzGospatric
|>> Robert FitzGospatric
|>> Orme FitzGospatric
|>> Alan FitzGospatric
|>> Gilbert de Southaik

|>> Michael FitzOrm
|>> Robert FitzOrm
|>> RogerFitzOrm

|>> Sir Gilbert de Lancaster >>>> >|>> Roger de Lancaster
m. Godith
/
m. Sigrida of Allerdale
(dau. of Styr, son of Ulf)
(see above)

|>> William FitzChetel