BLENNERHASSETT family of Newmarket, Clonfert, Co.Cork, Ireland

Blennerhassett Family Tree (BH36_Newmarket_NC.xlsx) revised May 2012, copyright © Bill Jehan 1968-2012

Thanks to all who have contributed to these pages - please send additions & corrections to email: bjehan@BlennerhassettFamilyTree.com

NC 01

```
>>>> Arthur Blennerhassett >>>>>>|>> William Blennerhassett >>>>> >|>> Sarah Blennerhassett of Duangle/Duingle/Duingle/Duaregle/Duarighe...? Co.Cork
b.<???> d.bef.1784
                                   (elder brother)
                                                                      she was granted the lands of Clashmealcon (Clashmeacon?), Co.Kerry by her mother 1797
                                   b.<???> d.bef.1784
                                                                      [ROD 1797 v511 p40 No.330125]
 of Clashmealcon
                                   of Co.Kerry
 (Clashmeacon, Clashmeicon?)
                                   d.bef.17.5.1784 (by which Dr JOHN ARTHUR BLENNERHASSETT of BROOKLYN, New York
 in the Barony of Clanmaurice.
                                   date his wife was a widow)
                                                                   >> Arthur William >>>>>>> >> Pr. John Arthur >>>>>>> |>> Margaret Blennerhassett (alias Blenner Hassett); b.3.3.1828 Newmarket, Clonfert, Co.Cork; he held this property
                                                                      Blennerhassett of Kanturk.
                                                                                                         Blennerhassett MD, Mg(?):
                                                                                                                                            emig, to USA with family bef,1856; of Williamsburg, New York 1856;
 leasehold, the lease unexpired (alias Blenner Hassett)
                                                                      Co.Cork, Attorney
                                                                                                                                            of Brooklyn, New York, USA 1860-1880 (1880 census has her aged 38, in error)
 when he died, inherited b.c1810 Ireland
 jointly by his sons William of Duangle/Duingle/Diungle...?
                                                                                                         (the 1870 census indicates and Arthur Blennerhassett Co.Cork when he witnessed a that he was b.c1815.
                                                                                                                                         > Elizabeth R. Blennerhassett (alias Blenner Hassett); b.4.8.1831 Newmarket, Clonfert, Co.Cork; deed of 23.5.1797 between his which is improbable)
                                                                                                                                            emig. to USA with family bef.1856; of Williamsburg, New York 1856;
 m. <???>
                                                                      mother? Melian Blennerhassett of Brooklyn, New York, USA 1860-1880 (1880 census has her aged 35, in error)
                                   m.26.10.1776
                                                                      & sis.? Sarah Blennerhassett, Apothecary & Physician at
                                   at Rathkeale, Co.Limerick:
                                                                      both of Duangle [ROD 1797
                                                                                                         Main Street, Newmarket,
 Thomas Morgell >>>>>> Melian Morgell
                                                                      v511 p40 m.330125]
                                                                                                         Clonfert, nr Kanturk, Co.Cork
                                                                                                                                        >> Sarah "Sally" Blennerhassett; b.19.2.1833 Newmarket, Co.Cork; (will dated 1808; pr. 1810)
                                   b.post1733, b. est.c1745
                                                                                                                                            emig, to USA with family bef.1856; of Williamsburg, New York 1856;
                                                                      in 1800 he and John Callaghan, (eldest child); of Dublin in 1794
                                                                                                         of Kilbulane & Knocktmpl d.c14.3.1856 Williamsburg ["The Cork Examiner" 14.3.1856]
 m.1733
                                   (see also p.B 03)
                                                                      farmer signed a deed relating (abbreviated), Co.Cork
 Melian O'Callaghan:
                                                                      to "the demesne lands of [Slater's National Commercial of Mount Morgell
                                   of Rathkeale 1784, Duarighe in the Barony of Directory of Ireland 1846] (from1806 called Beechmount) of the City of Dublin 1794 Duhallow, Cork [ROD 1806 and [GV Cork 1850-53]
 near Rathkeale, Co.Limerick
                                                                      v.584 pp.158-9 m.396318]; [GV Cork 1850-53] also has Melian Morgell was the witness: David Callaghan
 dau. of Robert O'Callaghan JP
                                   dau. of Thomas Morgell of Duaregle, Co.Cork
                                                                                                         a "John Blennerhassett of Killowen, Clonfert, Co.Cork" of Clonmeen,
 and Mary Twogood
                                   as a widow she had a dispute of Kanturk, Co.Cork 1806.
                                                                      when he witnessed a deed with her husband's brother In 1830 he signed declaration against the repeal of the Union (of Ireland with Great Britain) by her father's will dated Arthur Blennerhassett, over between Richard Allen & [OCM vol.5 pp.247, 250] & ["The Constitution", Cork 8.2.1827]
 8.8.1727 she recieved (at age her late husband's share of Henry Allen of Crabstock.
                                                                                                         Emigrated to USA with his family before 1856:
                                                                      Co.Cork [ROD 1806 v585
 18 or day of marriage) £800;
                                   a joint inheritence from their
                                                                                                         of Williamsburg, New York 1856; of Brooklyn (Ward 13), Kings Co., New York 1860-70 and in 1750 she received £10
                                   father Arthur Blennerhassett; p.168 m.395497]
 by her mother's will;
                                   this concerned a lease to the Dr Blennerhassett was aquainted with the family of Annie Rose Blennerhassett Callender (1835-1916), d.10.2.1767 Mount Morgell
                                   lands of Clashmealcon
                                                                      d.19.5.1816 Kanturk
                                                                                                         and her father William Wynne Blennerhassett, of Brooklyn, New York (p.W 04) (Clashmeacon, Clashmeicon?)
                                                                      (or perhaps d.14.5.1816?)
                                                                                                         d.bef.1901
 they had 2 sons & 3 daughters
                                   in the Barony of Clanmaurice,
                                                                      "...interred in the tomb of
 of which the eldest was Co.Kerry
                                                                      O'Callaghan of Clonmeen,
                                                                                                         m.4.2.1827 Knocktmpl/Lilbolane, Co.Cork; Melian Morgell
                                                                      his near relative" (at Elizabeth "Eliza" Allen; b.c1810/12 Ireland; of Castle Ishen, Co.Limerick ["Melian - an Unusual Name" the dispute was resolved, and Clonmeen/Roskeen, Co.Cork) (closely related to the family of Allen of Ballyduane, near Newmarket, Co.Cork)
 by Rosemary Melian Coleby] in 1791 a deed was drawn up published in between Melian and her bro.- m.22.1.1799 Limerick
 ["The Irish Genealogist"
                                   in-law Arthur Blennerhassett.
                                                                      Cathedral (St.Mary, C.o.I.); vol.13 No.2, 2011 pp.161-162] confirming her right to the Eliza Morgan
                                   lands of Clashmealcon.
                                                                      of Dunmoylan, Co.Limerick; Co.Kerry [ROG 1791
                                                                      d.15.1.1824/5 Newmarket, near
                                   v435 p.289-290, m.285306]
                                                                      Kanturk [Clare Journal 25.1.1799] in 1794 her bro.-in-law Arthur Blennerhassett of Tralee held a trust for her mentioned in a deed of 1794 relating to the trust are Thomas Stoughton of Ballyhorgan, Co.Kerry; Richard McGillicuddy, High Sheriff of Co.Kerry; William Townsend Gun; and Crosbie Morgell of Dublin, brother of Melian Morgell [ROD 1794 v.479 p.449 m.308212]
                                   NOTE: Crosbie Morgell of York Street, Dublin bur.12.11.1794 St Peters Church (C.o.I.) Dublin; NOTE: Melian Morgell's mother Melian O'Callaghan was dau. of Robert O'Callaghan of Co.Cork and g.daughter of Robert O'Callaghan of Clonmeen (who m.1706 Mary Towgood)
                                   NOTE: A Robert O'Callaghan Esq who d.6.3.1778 at Batchelor's Quay, (Dublin?) was described as "...last of the ancient family of O'Callaghan of Clonmeen..." ["Exshaw", a Dublin Magazine, 9.3.1778] >> Arthur Blennerhassett (younger brother); b.<???> of the City of Dublin 1784; of Tralee, Co.Kerry 1794 with his elder brother William Blennerhassett, he jointly inherited from his father a lease to the the lands of Clashmealcon (Clashmeacon, Clashmeicon?) in the Barony of Clanmaurice, Co.Kerry; Had a dispute with his elder brother's widow Melian Blennerhassett (nee Morgill) over his late brother's share [ROG 1791 v435 p.289-290, m.285306]
                                   perhaps identical with:
                                       Arthur Blennerhassett of Tralee, Co.Kerry
                                       m.29.11.1801 St.Mary's Cathedral, Limerick (C.o.I.); Jane Palme
```

NC 01

m. Margaret <???>

In the Armagh Public Library is a note: Rathkeale, Co.Limerick C.of I. Baptisms 1784 "Melian, daug of Crosbie Morgill Esq & Marg. his wife Sepr 11th 1784"

Not sure if this is wrong or if there is another Melian Morgill

Melissa Blennerhassett; will dated 1832, Diocese of Cloyne (Co.Cork) (Executor J. Sullivan, Princess St., Cork, Co.Cork) Could this perhaps(?) be a mis-reading of the name Melian Blennerhassett... NOTE: There is another Blennerhassett-Sullivan connection on p.IRE 2