"THE ROSE OF TRALEE"
Robert "Bob" Blennerhassett was c1840 was good friend and neighbour to William Pembroke Mulchinock; Who was Bob Blennerhassett and where did he live?
Poet William Pembroke Mulchinock (d.13.10.1864) was author of the famous Kerry ballad "The Rose of Tralee"; His parents Micheal Mulchinock & Margaret McCann (C.of I.) lived at "West Villa", near Tralee; Following Micheal's death in 1828 Mary O'Connor (aged about 17) of Brogue Lane, The Rock, Tralee was employed at West Villa, first as kitchen maid then as nursemaid; there she met William Mulchinock and became the inspiration for "The Rose of Tralee";
William left Tralee for India 1843 where he was a war correspondant, returning Spring 1849;
Mary O'Connor died Spring 1849 and is buried at Clogherbrien; William m. Alicia Keogh & they went to NY, USA in 1849; they had two daughters, but separated; He returned to Ireland in 1855;
The story refers to "...a dancing platform in Clahane, at the top of the glen..."
so West Villa may be at the south edge of Tralee town, between Tralee & Clahane

"THE CHANDLER" Family Legend (also on p.LL 01):
It is said a Blennerhassett son from a Tralee, Co.Kerry family was sent to Mallow, Co.Cork, as apprentice to a Chandler; being tasked to clean the boots of all the
the family every Saturday night, he was said to have cleaned only the boots of the daughter of the house, put the other boots into a furnace & walked home to Tralee
